Academy for Future Faculty

The Academy for Future Faculty (<https://cte.tamu.edu/prepare-future-faculty/academy-for-future-faculty/>) (AFF) – one of several Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching, and Learning (CIRTL@TAMU) programs – provides professional development in teaching for graduate students preparing for a career in higher education. Anchored by faculty mentorship and featuring weekly seminars and workshops, AFF events are free and open to all graduate students and post-doctoral trainees in the Texas A&M University academic community. Participants may choose to attend selected events or to complete all requirements for the Academy for Future Faculty Fellow certificate, which also qualifies the student for a CIRTL Associate certificate. Participants have the option to complete the Academy for Future Faculty Fellow Certificate Program in one or two semesters, or even over two academic years.

While AFF serves as a supplement to research-oriented programs by assisting graduate students with the teaching component of their career preparation, it is not teaching assistant training per se. Instead, AFF provides broader benefits applicable to all graduate students, whether currently teaching or preparing for teaching in the future. These benefits include:

- Opportunities to learn from professors known for excellence in teaching.
- Mentorship in teaching in higher education environments.
- Career paths exploration.
- Professional documents and teaching portfolio development for use in the academic job search.
- Networking connections with peers, faculty, and staff.
- Opportunities to earn the CIRTL Associate and AFF Senior Fellow certificates.
- Opportunities for advanced professional development as an AFF Fellow.

The Academy for Future Faculty is co-sponsored by the Graduate and Professional School (<https://grad.tamu.edu/>) and the Center for Teaching Excellence (<https://cte.tamu.edu/>). Interested graduate students are encouraged to visit the Academy for Future Faculty website (<https://cte.tamu.edu/prepare-future-faculty/academy-for-future-faculty/>).

Graduate Mentoring Academy

The goal of the Graduate Mentoring Academy (GMA) is to improve the graduate mentoring experiences of our students and increase our mentoring capacity as an institution. The target audiences for the academy are graduate and professional students, faculty, and staff. The Graduate Mentoring Academy is administered by the Graduate and Professional School at Texas A&M University.

The Graduate Mentoring Academy is parallel to the Faculty Mentoring Academy (FMA) and uses the Center for the Improvement of Mentored Experiences in Research (CIMER) resources which includes seven evidence-based mentorship competencies. These Graduate and Professional School activities, along with efforts from the Center for Teaching Excellence, and the Division of Research, work to create a culture of mentoring across our institution.

GMA workshops are offered in both face-to-face and virtual formats so that all seven competencies can be accessed regardless of location over the course of the year. Workshops are formatted in a learner-centered and engaging format that include case studies, discussion opportunities, and reflection activities. Break-out groups are used in the sessions to ensure every group of students, faculty, and staff receives appropriate and differentiated activities and instruction. Students, faculty, and staff can expect to increase their mentoring competence and skills so that they can be better mentors and mentees to others.

Students, faculty, and staff who complete all seven competencies will earn the designation of Graduate Mentoring Academy Fellow, receiving a certificate and a door placard. Graduate Mentoring Academy Fellows will also have the opportunity to gain additional professional development experience to become a Graduate Mentoring Academy Workshop Facilitator. Graduate and professional students who engage in the Graduate Mentoring Academy may also earn credit towards GRAD Aggies certificates.

My Grad Journey

My Grad Journey is an innovative tool that allows our Texas A&M University graduate and professional students to view their current academic progress and enter details about their academic, research, professional development activities, and career aspirations. My Grad Journey seeks to be the place where students, committee members, and authorized staff can coordinate feedback and be transparent in their annual and ad-hoc review processes as well as provide a way for students to track changes in their trajectory, career goals, and aspirations. Faculty and staff administrators can use the system to collect data about their students and programs while managing the workflow of review and feedback of students.

The system allows students to keep track of progress toward their degree, including information about courses taken, teaching, professional development activities, and scholarly productivity. Some of this information will be automatically imported from other campus databases, reducing the amount of work that students need to do to stay current. For faculty, this system provides a simple interface to track the progress of students whom they supervise. For administrators, the system allows simple access to a wealth of information about the activities of students in their program and helps streamline reporting processes.

Students, faculty, and administrators may access the system at <http://mygradjourney.tamu.edu> (<http://mygradjourney.tamu.edu/>). The implementation team can be reached at MyGradJourney@tamu.edu.

Off Campus Student Services

The Bryan-College Station community offers a variety of options for living off campus. Student Life provides resources and information to students preparing to or currently living off campus. Students are encouraged to stay informed about best practices for living off campus, whether you are new to living off campus or continuing off campus. Being a Good Neighbor means staying informed and complying with city rules and community standards. Frequent city code violations include:

- Occupancy -#Per city ordinance, no more than four unrelated individuals can reside in a single-family home. So, remember me +3 before you sign a lease.
- Noise -#Community ordinances are clear that it is unlawful for anyone to engage in "loud noise" that, because of its volume level, duration, or character, annoys, disturbs, injures, or endangers the comfort, health, peace, or safety of reasonable persons of ordinary sensibilities within the limits of the city, especially during the hours of 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.
- Trash -After collecting trash, tenants have 12 hours to remove the sanitation container from the street.
- Parking -Not following parking rules could result in a parking violation or an emergency vehicle being unable to access someone in need. Do your part in being a good neighbor and ensure you know parking guidelines.

There are plenty of options to live in the Bryan/College Station community. AggieSearch is a fully searchable database that allows students, parents, faculty, staff and guests to find off-campus housing that meets their needs. Visit AggieSearch (<https://aggiesearch.tamu.edu/>) to learn more.

Securing your new place in Aggieland means signing a lease. Reading and understanding the lease is critical before signing a lease. Leases are legally binding in Texas, and there are minimal means to get out of the lease. Remember these key tips before signing a lease:

- Read everything.
- All requests should be put in writing.
- Keep a copy of everything.
- Don't be afraid to ask questions.

#To learn more about off-campus living, visit the Student Life website.

Transportation Services

Transit

The university operates an on- and off-campus transit system that can be used by anyone on campus, fare-free. The off-campus transit system serves most of the major apartment complexes and housing areas in College Station, as well as the Blinn College Campus and RELLIS Campus.

All transit services are included in student registration fees and do not require a bus pass, however, passengers are required to present their Texas A&M, Blinn, or Brazos Transit District (BTD) ID when boarding at off-campus stops. Members of the general public possessing a Brazos Transit District ID may ride both on- and off-campus bus routes. In addition, students may ride The District (<http://btd.org/>) buses fare-free by showing their IDs upon entering the bus. For BTD bus route information, visit <http://btd.org> (<http://btd.org/>).

For updates about transit routes, subscribe to the RSS feed at <https://transport.tamu.edu/about/rss.aspx> or follow @aggiespiritbus (http://twitter.com/aggiespiritbus/) on X. For transit information, including maps and leave times, visit <https://transport.tamu.edu/transit.aspx>.

See also Optional Campus Services (<https://catalog.tamu.edu/graduate/tuition-fees-financial-information/optional-campus-services/>).

Parking is at a premium on Texas A&M's campus; MOST customers are not assigned their first choice for parking. Often the available parking may not be immediately adjacent to your building or facility. Students may register for parking at <https://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx> (<http://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx>) or sign up for the wait lists at <http://transport.tamu.edu/account> (<http://transport.tamu.edu/account/>). The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs (OVPSA) serves and supports 13 different departments within the Division of Student Affairs that are critically engaged in all aspects of students' lives and the delivery of key services and support. In alignment with the mission, values, and policies of Texas A&M University, the OVPSA promotes collaboration and coordinating efforts that affect the entire division, such as strategic planning, budgeting, staff and community development, research, assessment, fundraising, public relations, and technology.

Further, the OVPSA supports the division's community of talented and dedicated professionals who provide exceptional programs, services, and facilities that create a supportive campus environment where students feel a sense of community and have the opportunity to develop as leaders. The OVPSA works to ensure that the division and its staff maintain a student-centered approach to engagement, learning, leadership development, and well-being, in order to instill a commitment to critical thinking, lifelong learning, and the Aggie Core Values amongst our 79,000+ students.
