Academy for Future Faculty

The Academy for Future Faculty (AFF) (<https://cte.tamu.edu/prepare-future-faculty/academy-for-future-faculty/>), one of several CIRT@TAMU programs, provides professional development in teaching for graduate students preparing for a career in higher education. Anchored by faculty mentorship and featuring weekly seminars and workshops, AFF events are free and open to all graduate students and post-doctoral trainees in the Texas A&M University academic community. Participants may choose to attend select events or to complete all requirements for the Academy for Future Faculty Fellow certificate, which also qualifies the student for a CIRT Associate certificate. Participants have the option to complete the Academy for Future Faculty Fellow Certificate Program in one or two semesters, or even over two academic years.

While AFF serves as a supplement to research-oriented programs by assisting graduate students with the teaching component of their career preparation, it is not teaching assistant training per se. Instead, AFF provides broader benefits applicable to all graduate students, whether currently teaching or preparing for teaching in the future. These benefits include:

- Opportunities to learn from a diverse pool of professors known for excellence in teaching.
- Mentorship in teaching in higher education environments.
- Career paths exploration.
- Professional documents and teaching portfolio development for use in the academic job search.
- Networking connections with peers, faculty, and staff.
- Opportunities to earn the CIRT Associate and AFF Senior Fellow certificates.
- Opportunities for advanced professional development as an AFF Fellow.

The Academy for Future Faculty is co-sponsored by the Graduate and Professional School (<https://grad.tamu.edu/>) and the Center for Teaching Excellence (<https://cte.tamu.edu/>). Interested graduate students are encouraged to visit the Academy for Future Faculty website (<https://cte.tamu.edu/prepare-future-faculty/academy-for-future-faculty/>) or find us on Facebook.

Off-Campus Student Services

The Bryan-College Station community offers a variety of options for living off-campus. Student Life provides resources and information to students who are preparing to or are currently living off-campus. Students are encouraged to stay informed about best practices for living off-campus, whether you are new to living off-campus or continuing off-campus. Three key areas for living off-campus include:

- Being a good Neighbor: This means staying informed and complying with city rules and community standards. Frequent city code violations include:
 - "No More than 4" - Per city ordinance, no more than four unrelated individuals can reside in a single-family home (https://library.municode.com/tx/college_station/codes/code_of_ordinances/) model=SPBLADEOR_APXAUNDEOR_ART11DE). So, Remember Me +3 before you sign a lease.

- Noise - Community ordinances are clear that it is unlawful for anyone to engage in "loud noise" that, because of its volume level, duration, or character, annoys, disturbs, injures, or endangers the comfort, health, peace, or safety of reasonable persons of ordinary sensibilities within the limits of the City, especially during the hours of 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.
- Trash - After collecting trash, tenants have 12 hours to remove the sanitation container from the street.
- Parking - Not following parking rules could result in a parking violation or an emergency vehicle being unable to access someone in need. Do your part in being a good neighbor and make sure you are aware of parking guidelines.
- Searching for Housing: There are plenty of options to live in the Bryan/College Station community. AggieSearch is a fully searchable database that allows students, parents, faculty/staff and guests to find off-campus housing that meets their needs. Visit <https://aggiesearch.tamu.edu/> to learn more.
- Leasing 101: Securing your new place in Aggieland means signing a lease. Reading and understanding the lease is critical before signing a lease. Leases are legally binding in Texas and there are minimal means to get out of the lease. Remember these key tips before signing a lease:
 - Read everything
 - All requests should be put in writing
 - Keep a copy of everything
 - Don't be afraid to ask questions

Participants who engage with the network can earn CIRTL certification at the Associate, Practitioner, and Scholar levels.

Doctoral Student Profile and Feedback System

The Doctoral Student Profile and Feedback System is an easy-to-use platform intended to support the regular review of the academic performance of doctoral students at Texas A&M University. The system provides a single source for students to view their academic progress, create custom curricula vitae and biosketches, and receive feedback from their faculty advisors. Faculty and staff administrators can use the system to collect data about their program and manage the workflow of review and feedback.

The system allows students to keep track of progress toward their degree, including information about courses taken, teaching, professional development activities, and scholarly productivity. Much of this information will be automatically imported from other campus databases, reducing the amount of work that students need to do to stay current. Students can use their profile information to create documents suitable for employment or fellowship applications. For faculty, this system provides a simple interface to track the progress of students whom they supervise. For administrators, the system allows simple access to a wealth of information about the activities of students in their program and helps streamline reporting processes.

The system is customizable by departments and programs. It is designed to integrate and simplify existing feedback processes or to encourage units to begin regular evaluations. The Graduate and Professional School provides support and training for departments and programs as they implement the system.

More on the system, including instructions for users, can be found on the Graduate and Professional School website's Doctoral Profile and Feedback System page (<https://grad.tamu.edu/knowledge-center/grad-student-resources/doctoral-profile-and-feedback-system/>). The implementation team can be reached at doctoralprofile@tamu.edu.

G.R.A.D. Aggies Professional Development Program

Graduate Resources and Development for Aggies (G.R.A.D. Aggies (<https://grad.tamu.edu/academics/professional-development/grad-aggies/>)) is a collaborative effort of several university-level academic support units providing professional development workshops, seminars, training events, and online resources open to all graduate and professional students. Facilitated by the Graduate and Professional School, G.R.A.D. Aggies programming addresses seven skill areas: research and academics, personal wellbeing, instruction and assessment, communication, leadership, inclusion, diversity, equity, and accessibility (IDEA) development, and career development. These programs are designed to promote deeper engagement for students and provide "transferable skills" not addressed directly in discipline-based coursework that employers cite as essential to applicants' competitiveness.

The G.R.A.D. Aggies Program, launched in the Fall 2015, offers students the opportunity to spotlight their effort in professional development and enhance their curriculum vitae or resume. The program offers several levels of certificates, all at no cost to the student. All G.R.A.D. Aggies events are listed on the G.R.A.D. Aggies Calendar and earn Professional Development Units (PDUs) that accumulate to reach the desired certificate level. For more details on the G.R.A.D. Aggies Certificate Program, please visit the program website (<https://grad.tamu.edu/academics/professional-development/grad-aggies/>). Ongoing professional development activities are spotlighted in the monthly Graduate and Professional School e-newsletter, "News from Nagle."

In addition to the G.R.A.D. Aggies Calendar, the Graduate and Professional School also facilitates the Professional Development (PD) Directory (<https://grad.tamu.edu/academics/professional-development-directory/>), an online repository of professional development opportunities facilitated by departments, colleges, and other university units which are open to graduate and professional students. The G.R.A.D. Aggies Calendar and PD Directory enable quick searching of opportunities across campus.

Graduate Mentoring Academy

The goal of the Graduate Mentoring Academy is to improve the graduate mentoring experiences of our students and increase our mentoring capacity as an institution. The target audiences for the academy are graduate and professional students, faculty, and staff. The Graduate Mentoring Academy is administered by the Graduate and Professional School at Texas A&M University.

The Graduate Mentoring Academy (GMA) is a parallel to the Faculty Mentoring Academy (FMA) and uses the Center for the Improvement of Mentored Experiences in Research (CIMER) resources which includes seven evidence-based mentorship competencies. These Graduate and Professional School activities, along with efforts from the Center for Teaching Excellence, and the Division of Research, work to create a culture of mentoring across our institution.

GMA workshops are offered in both face-to-face and virtual formats so that all seven competencies can be accessed regardless of location over the course of the year. Workshops are formatted in a learner-centered and engaging format that include case studies, discussion opportunities, and reflection activities. Break out groups are used in the sessions to ensure every group of students, faculty, and staff receives appropriate and differentiated activities and instruction. Students, faculty, and staff can expect to increase their mentoring competence and skills so that they can be better mentors and mentees to others.

Students, faculty, and staff who complete all seven competencies will earn the designation of Graduate Mentoring Academy Fellow, receiving a certificate and a door placard. Graduate Mentoring Academy Fellows will also have the opportunity to gain additional professional development experience to become a Graduate Mentoring Academy Workshop Facilitator. Graduate and professional students who engage in the Graduate mentoring Academy may also earn credit towards G.R.A.D. Aggies certificates.

Transit

The university operates an on- and off-campus transit system that can be used by anyone on campus, fare-free. The off-campus transit system serves most of the major apartment complexes and housing areas in College Station, as well as the Blinn College Campus and RELIS Campus.

All transit services are included in student registration fees and do not require a bus pass, however, passengers are required to present their Texas A&M, Blinn, or Brazos Transit District (BTD) ID when boarding at off-campus stops. Members of the general public possessing a Brazos Transit District ID may ride both on- and off-campus bus routes. In addition, students may ride The District (<http://btd.org/>) buses fare-free by showing their IDs upon entering the bus. For BTD bus route information, visit <http://btd.org> (<http://btd.org/>).

For updates about transit routes, subscribe to the RSS feed at <http://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx> or follow @aggiespiritbus (<http://twitter.com/aggiespiritbus/>) on Twitter. For transit information, including maps and leave times, visit <https://m.tamu.edu>.

Parking

Those who choose to bring a vehicle to campus are required to purchase a parking assignment (virtual permit) or pay-by-the-hour to park in designated visitor areas. (Download the Parkmobile app, available on the AppStore, Google Play, or Windows Store, or those without a smartphone may use the mobile web app at <https://parkmobile.io/>.) See also Optional Campus Services (<http://catalog.tamu.edu/graduate/tuition-fees-financial-information/optional-campus-services/>).

Parking is at a premium on Texas A&M's campus; MOST customers are not assigned their first choice for parking. Often the available parking may not be immediately adjacent to your building or facility. Students may register for parking at <https://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx> (<http://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx>) or sign up for the wait lists at <http://transport.tamu.edu/account> (<http://transport.tamu.edu/account/>). To get the best parking available, register online by the July 7 priority deadline.
