The Becky Gates Children’s Center (BGCC) is a licensed and accredited early childhood educational program located on the Texas A&M University campus, 1125 Hensel Drive. We are for Texas A&M University students, faculty, and staff affiliated with main campus. BGCC is licensed for 165 children ages 12 months - 6 years, and we are open M-F, 7:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m., year-round.

Becky Gates Children’s Center
http://bgcc.tamu.edu

The Becky Gates Children’s Center philosophy aligns with the HighScope Curriculum. We believe children learn best through active participatory play to construct their knowledge. Active learning is at the core of adult-child interactions, the learning environment, daily routines, and observational assessment. BGCC supports children’s play, uses encouragement, uses a problem-solving approach to social conflict, and forms authentic relationships with all children.

If you are interested in enrolling your child, please visit our website, read the Family Handbook, and complete the waitlist application.

BGCC also serves as a support location for Texas A&M University students and faculty for educational and professional goals. We work currently teaching or preparing for teaching in the future. These benefits include:

· Opportunity to learn from a diverse pool of professors known for excellence in teaching.
· Mentorship in the area of teaching in higher education environments.
· Exploration of career paths.
· Development of teaching portfolio materials for use in academic job searches.
· Advanced professional development opportunities for AFF Fellows: earn the Senior Fellow Certificate, leadership opportunities, research projects, and participation in forums or learning communities on college teaching.

Interested graduate students are encouraged to visit the website http://cte.tamu.edu/Graduate-Student-Support or find us on Facebook. The Academy for Future Faculty is co-sponsored by the Office of Graduate and Professional Studies and the Center for Teaching Excellence.

Off-Campus Student Services
http://agoss.tamu.edu

Programs include:

· Housing Fair: Each fall 60+ housing representatives from the B/CS area gather to provide an opportunity for students to obtain information about possible housing options.
· Off Campus Survival Manual (OCSM): A yearly publication with information geared toward introducing students to the community. It includes sections with information regarding leases, transportation, security deposits, and the B/CS community, and more.
· Aggie Search: An online tool providing students a place to view and post apartment and property listings, as well as roommate search options.

The Academy for Future Faculty (AFF), one of several CIRTL@TAMU programs, provides professional development in teaching for graduate students preparing for a career in higher education. Anchored by faculty mentorship and featuring weekly seminars and workshops, AFF events are free and open to all graduate students and post-doctoral trainees in the Texas A&M University academic community. Participants may choose to attend select events or to complete all requirements for the Academy for Future Faculty Fellow certificate, which also qualifies the student for a CIRTL* Associate certificate. Participants have the option to complete the Academy for Future Faculty Fellow Certificate Program in one or two semesters, or even over two academic years.

While the AFF serves as a supplement to research-oriented programs by assisting graduate students with the teaching component of their career preparation, it is not teaching assistant training per se. Instead, the AFF provides broader benefits applicable to all graduate students, whether closely with different academic departments to provide educational opportunities and experiences for students. This includes observations, practicums, internships, research, projects, and field experiences. If research falls under jurisdiction of the Institutional Review Board (IRB) for Human Subjects Research we will notify families of the research and IRB approval number. If you are interested in partnering with the Becky Gates Children’s Center, please contact the Director at eritter@bgcc.tamu.edu.

Center for Teaching Excellence
Established in 1983, the Center for Teaching Excellence (CTE) supports the University’s commitment to excellence in teaching and learning. CTE offers consultation and support services to faculty, postdoctoral scholars, graduate students, and staff. Specifically, CTE offers a wide range of programs supporting the professional development in teaching of graduate students currently serving as teaching assistants within their departments, preparing for a career in higher education, and/or preparing for a career in industry requiring skills in public speaking and communication, instruction, and mentorship. Graduate students have the option to participate in a variety of program formats including workshops, learning communities, teaching academies, teaching conferences, individual consultation, and English language instruction. CTE works collaboratively with colleges and service organizations across campus to provide continuity of service when in support of the University’s mission. Programs we provide include, but are not limited to the following: Teaching Assistant Institute (TAI); Academy for Future Faculty (AFF); College Classroom Teaching Course; Graduate Teaching Consultant (GTC); English Language Proficiency Instruction (CTE-ELP).

Graduate student resources can be found on the CTE website – http://cte.tamu.edu.

To learn more about how the CTE can be of service, contact: cte@tamu.edu.

Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching and Learning
http://cirtl.tamu.edu/

The Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching, and Learning (CIRTL) is a national network of universities and colleges that are focused on teaching and learning in higher education. CIRTL uses graduate education as the leverage point to develop a national STEM faculty committed to implementing and advancing effective teaching practices for diverse student audiences as part of successful professional careers. The goal of CIRTL is to improve the STEM learning of all students at every college and university, and thereby to increase the diversity in STEM fields and the STEM literacy of the nation. Established in fall 2006, the CIRTL Network was comprised of Howard University, Michigan State University, Texas A&M University, University of Colorado at Boulder, University of Wisconsin-Madison, and Vanderbilt University. After substantial expansions in 2011 and 2016, the Network now includes 43 research universities across the nation. The diversity of these institutions – private/public; large/moderate size; majority-/minority-serving; geographic location – is by design aligned with CIRTL’s mission.

As a local member of the CIRTL network, CIRTL@TAMU works collaboratively with the Office of Graduate and Professional Studies, the Center for Teaching Excellence, and the academic colleges. Through collaboration, the CIRTL@TAMU offers a range of local and national teaching and learning opportunities for graduate students in STEM and Non-STEM fields at Texas A&M University. These opportunities help students learn and apply the principles of teaching as research in a supportive context of one or more local learning communities that are infused with the pillars of CIRTL: Learning-through-Diversity, Learning Community, and Teaching as Research. Students who engage with the network can earn CIRTL certification at the Associate, Practitioner, and Scholar levels.

More information about CIRTL@TAMU and opportunities to get involved can be found on the on the following website: http://cirtl.tamu.edu/

Corps of Cadets, Office of the Commandant
http://corps.tamu.edu/

- The Office of the Commandant is responsible for the development and execution of all programs affiliated with the Texas A&M Corps of Cadets. The Army, Navy/Marine and Air Force ROTC program offices are also facilitated within the Office of the Commandant.
- The Office of the Commandant is located in Room 102 of the Military Sciences Building (Trigon) on campus; phone (979) 845-2811.

Disability Services
http://disability.tamu.edu

- Makes student disability and accommodation determination decisions.
- Collaborates with faculty, staff and students to achieve access for students with disabilities.
- Facilitates accommodations including (but not limited to): exam accommodations, sign language interpreting and transcription, and classroom accommodations.
- Consults with all campus entities on providing access for students with disabilities.

Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender (GLBT) Resource Center
http://glbt.tamu.edu

- Programs include:
  - Spirit Day: Spirit Day is a means of speaking out against LGBTQ bullying and standing with LGBTQ youth, who disproportionately face bullying and harassment because of their identities. The Center provides Spirit Day shirts and encourages the Aggie Community to stand up for LGBTQ youth.
  - Transgender Day of Remembrance: On this day, the GLBT Resource Center encourages Aggies to honor the memory of those whose lives were lost in acts of anti-transgender violence.
  - Mentorship Program: The purpose of the GLBT Resource Center’s Mentorship Program is to offer support and guidance to lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer or questioning students at Texas A&M. Students are matched with a mentor based on academic and professional interests as well as personal interests and will meet with their mentor approximately once a month.
  - The Coming Out Monologues: The Coming Out Monologues is an annual story-telling performance made up of current and former students, faculty, staff, and community members who identify as LGBTQ+ or allies of the community.
• LGBT Awareness Week: Designed to allow students to share their stories, experiences, and to foster a respectful and understanding community. GLBT Awareness Week helps Aggies better understand the diversity of their community and the global society of which they are a part.
• Lavender Graduation Celebration: The Lavender Graduation Celebration serves as a cultural celebration that recognizes and affirms LGBTQ+ students and their allies while acknowledging their achievements and contributions to the university.
• Presentation topics include, but are not limited to:
  • LGBTQ+ 101
  • Transgender 101
  • Organizational Inclusion
  • Resources to Create Affirming Healthcare Services for LGBTQ+ Patients
  • Custom Requests
• Resource Library (Books, Periodicals, Brochures, and Films)
  • Advocacy
  • Visibility

GRAD Aggies
http://grad-aggies.tamu.edu

Graduate Resources and Development for Aggies (G.R.A.D. Aggies) is a collaborative effort of eight university-level academic support units providing workshops, seminars, training events, and online resources open to all graduate and professional students. Facilitated by the Office of Graduate and Professional Studies, G.R.A.D. Aggies programming falls under four broad competency areas: academic development, leadership and communication development, instruction and assessment, and career development. These workshops are designed to provide those “soft skills” not addressed directly in discipline-based coursework that employers cite as essential to applicants’ competitiveness.

The G.R.A.D. Aggies certificate program, launched in the Fall of 2015, offers students the opportunity to highlight their participation in professional development events and enhance their CV or resume. This program promotes deeper engagement for students who attend G.R.A.D. Aggies Events. The certificate is offered at three levels: Basic, Intermediate, and Advanced. Students who attend G.R.A.D. Aggies events are listed on the G.R.A.D. Aggies Calendar and earn Professional Development Units (PDUs) that accumulate to reach the desired certificate level. Achieving certificate requirements for the Basic level requires earning a minimum of 6 PDU credits, completing the corresponding short assignment for each event within one month of attendance, and submitting a final program reflection. Intermediate and Advanced Certificates require an increased number of PDUs for completion, as well as other activities. Student engagement in the G.R.A.D. Aggies certificate program is tracked through eCampus.

A weekly G.R.A.D. Aggies eNewsletter is sent to all graduate and professional students to alert them to ongoing professional development activities associated with G.R.A.D. Aggies as well as other professional development opportunities and resources. OGAPS also facilitates the G.R.A.D. Aggies calendar (see https://calendar.tamu.edu/gradaggies/#!view/all) and a Professional Development Portal that are online repositories of professional development opportunities available at Texas A&M at the department, college, or university level and enable quick searching of opportunities across campus (see http://ogaps.tamu.edu/prodev-portal). Students can also subscribe to the G.R.A.D. Aggies calendar to have events auto populate to their smart phone or device.

Graduate and Professional Student Council
http://gpsc.tamu.edu

The Graduate and Professional Student Council (GPSC) serves as the graduate and professional student government of Texas A&M University. GPSC works in cooperation with the Texas A&M University administration, faculty, and student leaders to advocate for graduate and professional students and to ensure their needs are understood and considered when making campus policies concerning academic excellence, tuition and fees, and research are made.

Specific goals of the GPSC include:

• to serve as the voice of and represent all graduate and professional students of Texas A&M.
• to identify, share, and discuss issues pertinent to graduate and professional students in order to maintain academic freedom; improve the quality of instruction; develop and strengthen recruitment and retention programs; encourage training, fair compensation, and benefits; and ensure that quality student services are made available.
• to be recognized as representing a unique population of Texas A&M University.
• to establish and maintain open and effective communication with the University and its constituents.
• to establish and maintain open and effective communication among the graduate and professional student body on issues that affect its members.
• to serve as an outreach venue for graduate and professional students by providing opportunities for social interaction and service to the local community.

Each academic department with graduate and professional programs is eligible to send one voting delegate to the biweekly meetings and all graduate and professional students are invited to attend. Officer elections are held in the spring. GPSC also works closely with the Student Government Association to ensure graduate and professional student issues are represented and addressed through student legislation and on University committees. Additional information is available on the GPSC website at http://gpsc.tamu.edu.

International Student Services
http://iss.tamu.edu/

International Student Services provides the following support services to international students (defined as students who are not U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents):

- Pre-arrival information
- Certificates of Eligibility (Forms I-20 and DS-2019)
- On-line Orientation and International Student Conference
- Represent the University with the Department of Homeland Security, Department of State and the Student Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS)
- Assist students with federal immigration regulation compliance
- Advising
- Liaison for students, university and community
- International student employment information
- Administration of some international student scholarships and loans
- Coordinate with the Texas A&M University System Student Health Insurance Plan provider and students
- Community involvement activities
- Acts as a liaison between the University, sponsors and sponsored students

Memorial Student Center (MSC)
http://msc.tamu.edu/

- Programming at the MSC, Texas A&M's student union, enriches the living and learning experience in Aggieland. We produce hundreds of programs each year in the arts, cultural and educational awareness and exploration, leadership development, and service projects on campus and in the community. Our programs include the OPAS performing arts series, art exhibitions in the MSC Reynolds Gallery, concerts, weekly films, lectures and speakers discussing current events and national affairs, the MLK Breakfast, Salsa Dance Night, and MSC Open House. The MSC also promotes international awareness through on-campus programs and internships abroad.
- MSC programs also offer students excellent academic development opportunities. The MSC Jordan Institute for International Awareness offers students the chance to conduct international research and serve as interns for international corporations. The Student Conference on National Affairs offers students a challenging and informative conference focused on professional development in the area of national policy, and the Student Conference on Latino Affairs features sessions that tie together personal and professional development. In addition, MSC programming committee members learn and practice leadership and professional skills through the experience of managing their own organizations and producing programs for the campus community.
- The MSC Box Office provides students and organizations with convenient and affordable ticketing, cash handling, and sales services. The Box Office makes selling easier by eliminating the worry and risk of cash handling by providing online sales and by providing extensive reporting capabilities that take the hassle out of accounting tracking sales and cash flow.

Department of Multicultural Services
http://dms.tamu.edu/

The Department of Multicultural Services (DMS) contributes to steady progress toward institutional diversity goals of greater inclusion and academic excellence by positively impacting the campus climate.

The department has a mission to provide multiple educational and developmental services for underrepresented and historically marginalized racial and ethnic populations and diversity education programs that foster inclusive learning environments for all students. DMS supports, advocates for and challenges students as they transition and persist at Texas A&M, as well as provides opportunities for students to examine and communicate ways to contribute to an inclusive and respectful campus community, develop cultural knowledge and competence and build cross-cultural communication skills.

DMS is home to a number of student organizations and programs that provide academic, social, cultural, and personal development, as well as intentional interaction and engagement. DMS assists students with their transition to and persistence through Texas A&M University and educates students about individual differences, cultural competence, and how to contribute to a respectful campus. The department strives to maintain a welcoming and inclusive environment for all students.

Office of Graduate and Professional Studies Workshop Series
http://ogaps.tamu.edu/

The Office of Graduate and Professional Studies provides workshops each fall and spring semester to provide graduate and professional students support as they progress through their programs to graduation. The workshops are available to all graduate and professional students, Masters and Doctoral, and address services offered by the Office of Graduate and Professional Studies (e.g., thesis and dissertation services); they also cover a variety of professional development topics, such as Financial Management, Intellectual Property (data ownership), Building a Mentoring Partnership, and Multiple Career Paths, as a part of the G.R.A.D. Aggies program. Workshops are added as students request new information and can be provided to individual student organizations upon request. OGAPS also facilitates the G.R.A.D. Aggies Calendar [https://calendar.tamu.edu/gradaggies/#!view/all] and a Professional Development Portal [http://ogaps.tamu.edu/Graduate-Student-Professional-Development-Portal] that are online repositories of professional development opportunities available at Texas A&M at the department, college, or university level to enable quick searching of opportunities.

Recreational Sports
http://recsports.tamu.edu

• All currently enrolled Texas A&M students (with some exceptions) are automatically Rec Members. All you need is your student ID to utilize the Student Recreation Center and other Rec Sports facilities. Guest passes for visitors are available for purchase. Persons with disabilities are invited to contact Member Services to inquire about accommodations.
• Drop-in recreation encompasses the use of recreational facilities such as a walking/jogging track, handball/racquetball courts, and indoor courts for soccer, basketball, volleyball, and badminton. The Rec Center also features a bouldering wall, an indoor rock climbing facility, outdoor basketball and sand volleyball courts, extensive strength and conditioning areas, dance/activity rooms, and a world-class natatorium featuring indoor and outdoor pools and a diving well. Facilities may be used on a drop-in basis except when reserved for classes or university functions.
• Rec Sports also offers aquatics classes, group exercise and specialty classes, boot camps, personal and small group training, intramural sports, the Texas A&M Sport Clubs program, Outdoor Adventures, and the Walk of Champions brick campaign.

Department of Residence Life
http://reslife.tamu.edu/

• Responsible for the operation of on-campus residence halls and University Apartments (White Creek and Gardens Apartments). Summer occupancy of on-campus residence halls is open to undergraduate and graduate students.
• University Apartment units [http://reslife.tamu.edu/apartments] are available for graduate students, single-parent families, veterans, international students, married students or single undergraduate students without children who are sophomores, juniors, seniors or non-traditional freshmen (The Gardens).

Student Activities
http://studentactivities.tamu.edu/

• Student Activities is the premier hub for leadership and involvement opportunities on campus. At Texas A&M, we care about helping Aggies develop skills both in and out of the classroom that will prepare them for life beyond Aggieland. Whatever it is that you love, Student Activities is here to help you practice your passion through involvement in one of our 1100+ student organizations. The perks of getting involved range from reaching your leadership potential to networking with administrators and potential employers to forming lasting friendships.
• At Texas A&M, Aggies are held to a high standard of leadership and selfless service. To promote and develop these qualities, our Leadership and Service Center offers a number of leadership programs to help you reach your leadership potential, and it also houses several service-based organizations and events such as The Big Event and the Volunteer Opportunities Fair. We also provide a way for Aggies to connect and volunteer with local community agencies through our AggieServe database [http://aggieserve.tamu.edu].

Student Media

http://studentlife.tamu.edu/studentmedia

- Student Media produces national, award-winning publications; The Battalion newspaper, the Aggieland yearbook and the Maroon Life magazine. All three are written, edited and produced by students and offer excellent opportunities to gain valuable experience for journalistic and related careers.

- The Battalion is published Monday, Wednesday and Friday during the fall, on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday in the spring and every other week during the summer sessions. It is distributed to students, faculty and staff on campus and at many apartments and other high traffic areas in College Station. The Battalion also is available online and on mobile devices at thebatt.com.

- The Aggieland is distributed in the fall but is a year-round project documenting school activities. It is one of the nation's largest college yearbooks.

- Maroon Life is published five times during the school year with New Students' Guide to Aggieland (distributed at New Student Conferences), Fall Sports Preview, Best of Aggieland (winter distribution), Spring Sports Preview and Housing Guide (Family Weekend) editions.

Transportation Services

Transit - The University operates an on- and off-campus transit system that can be used by anyone on campus, fare-free. The off-campus transit system serves most of the major apartment complexes and housing areas in College Station, as well as the Blinn College Campus and RELLIS Campus.

All transit services are included in student registration fees and do not require a bus pass, however, passengers are required to present their Texas A&M, Blinn, or Brazos Transit District (BTD) ID when boarding at off-campus stops. Members of the general public possessing a Brazos Transit District ID may ride both on- and off-campus bus routes. In addition, students may ride The District (http://btd.org) buses fare-free by showing their IDs upon entering the bus. For BTD bus route information, visit http://btd.org.

For updates about transit routes, subscribe to the RSS feed at http://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx or follow @aggiespiritbus (http://twitter.com/aggiespiritbus) on Twitter. For transit information, including maps and leave times, visit http://m.tamu.edu.

Parking - Those who choose to bring a vehicle to campus are required to purchase a permit or pay-by-the-hour to park (Download the Parkmobile app, available on the AppStore, Google Play, or Windows Store, or those without a smartphone may use the mobile web app at http://us.parkmobile.com/mobile) in designated visitor areas (see also Optional Campus Services (http://catalog.tamu.edu/graduate/tuition-fees-financial-information/optional-campus-services)).

Parking is at a premium on Texas A&M's campus; MOST customers are not assigned their first choice for parking. Often the available parking may not be immediately adjacent to your building or facility. Students may register for a permit at http://transport.tamu.edu/parking/faqpermit.aspx or sign up for the wait lists at http://transport.tamu.edu/account. To get the best parking available, register online by the July 10 priority deadline.

For updates about parking, traffic, and construction, subscribe to the RSS feeds at http://transport.tamu.edu/about/rss.aspx or follow @aggieparking (http://twitter.com/aggieparking) on Twitter or @TAMUTransportation on Facebook and Instagram.

For more information about parking permits or to view the Parking Rules and Regulations, visit http://transport.tamu.edu/parkingreg.

Bicycles - Bicycles are a great way to get to, from, and around campus. Bike services include the bike share program, bike lease program, borrow-a-bike, bike registration, summer bike storage, and maintenance stations.

For more information visit http://transport.tamu.edu/bicycles.

Alternatives - Don't have a car? There are plenty of alternatives, including carshare, rideshare, and break/weekend shuttles to major Texas cities. For more Alternative Transportation options, visit http://transport.tamu.edu/alternative.

- University Center and Special Events features a variety of special event and meeting spaces, as well as theatrical production spaces. Our venues are ideal for student, academic, administrative, corporate, social, non-profit and arts-related events. Our spaces include: the Memorial Student Center, Rudder Theatre Complex, J. Earl Rudder Tower, Koldus Building, All Faiths Chapel, designated outdoor spaces and the University Center Guest Suites. We also provide services in any approved facility of your choosing.
- When it comes to planning events on campus, visit the University Center and Special Events office on the 2nd floor of Rudder Tower. Our staff can assist you with reservations in any of the UCEN facilities as well as help in all aspects of planning meetings, socials or conferences. The highly skilled staff arranges event set ups; provides and operates audio/visual equipment, electricity, lighting and event staging; and assists with many of the other support details that are essential to a successful event.
