

MASTER OF APPLIED YOUTH DEVELOPMENT

The Master of Applied Youth Development program is designed for active and progressive youth development professionals. Many youth-serving professionals aspire to continue to pursue their careers while advancing their education and earning a graduate professional degree. The students will join a cohort of fellow professionals to study advanced topics in developmental process, social psychology, management, marketing, and financing youth-serving organizations. Individuals will discover science-based techniques for structuring experiences that build character and help youth thrive.

The program is also approved for delivery via asynchronous distance education technology.

Information regarding our programs and the application process (<https://alec.tamu.edu/academics/graduate/how-to-apply/>) may be obtained from the Agricultural Leadership, Education, and Communications website (<https://alec.tamu.edu/academics/graduate/>).

Student's Advisory Committee

On-Campus and Distance Education Degree Programs

After receiving admission to graduate studies and enrolling for coursework, a faculty member will be appointed to be chair of the student's advisory committee. The student's advisory committee for the Master of Applied Youth Development will consist of at least one member of the graduate faculty. Typically, this member may be the Master of Applied Youth Development Program Coordinator and will serve as the student's committee chair or, the departmental graduate advisor may appoint/approve another departmental faculty member to serve as the appropriate chair of the student's advisory committee. Committees may include up to three members of the graduate committee faculty.

If additional committee members are deemed necessary by the department, the chair, in consultation with the student, will select the remainder of the advisory committee. The student will interview each prospective committee member to determine whether they are willing to serve. Only graduate faculty members located on Texas A&M University campuses may serve as chair of a student's advisory committee. Other graduate faculty members located off-campus may serve as a member or co-chair (but not chair), with a member as the chair. The chair of the committee, who usually has immediate supervision of the student's degree program, has the responsibility for calling required meetings of the committee, and for calling meetings at any other time considered desirable.

If the chair voluntarily leaves the University near completion of a student's degree, the student may select another chair or has the option of working through the Department Head to secure permission from the Graduate and Professional School for the chair to continue in their role for up to one year. Extensions beyond the one-year period can be granted with additional approval from the Dean.

The duties of the chair include responsibility for the proposed degree plan. In addition, the chair is responsible for counseling the student on academic matters, and, in the case of academic deficiency, initiating recommendations to the Graduate and Professional School.

A chair's signature on the degree plan indicates their willingness to accept the responsibility for guiding and directing the entire academic program of the student and for initiating all academic actions concerning the student.

Degree Plan

On-Campus and Distance Education Degree Programs

The student's advisory committee, in consultation with the student, will develop the proposed degree plan. The degree plan must be completed and filed with the Graduate and Professional School prior to the deadline imposed by the student's college.

This proposed degree plan should be submitted through the online Document Processing Submission System located on the website <https://ogsdpss.tamu.edu>.

Additional coursework may be added to the approved degree plan by petition if it is deemed necessary by the chair of the committee to correct deficiencies in the student's academic preparation.

No changes can be made to the degree plan once the student's Request for Final Examination or Request for Final Examination Exemption is approved by the Graduate and Professional School.

Credit Requirement

On-Campus and Distance Education Degree Programs

A minimum of 36 hours is required for the Master of Applied Youth Development degree. Approximately 18 credit hours may be taken within the Department of Agricultural Leadership, Education, and Communications or taken outside of the department.

Transfer of Credit

On-Campus and Distance Education Degree Programs

A student who has earned 12 hours of graduate credit in residence at Texas A&M University may be authorized to transfer courses in excess of the limits prescribed above upon the advice of the advisory committee and with the approval of the Graduate and Professional School. Graduate and/or upper-level undergraduate courses taken in residence at an accredited U.S. institution or approved international institution with a final grade of B or greater, might be considered for transfer credit if, at the time the courses were completed, the courses would be accepted for credit toward a similar degree for a student in degree-seeking status at the host institution. Otherwise, the limitations stated in the preceding section apply. Coursework in which no formal grades are given or in which grades other than letter grades (A or B) are earned (for example, CR, P, S, U, H, etc.) is not accepted for transfer credit.

Courses appearing on the degree plan with grades of D, F or U may not be absolved by transfer work. Credit for thesis research or the equivalent is not transferable. Credit for coursework submitted for transfer from any college or university must be shown in semester credit hours or equated to semester credit hours. An official transcript from the university at which the transfer coursework was taken must be sent directly to the Office of Admissions.

Courses used toward a degree at another institution may not be applied for graduate credit. If the course to be transferred was taken prior to the conferral of a degree at the transfer institution, a letter from the Registrar at that institution stating that the course was not applied for credit toward the degree must be submitted to the Graduate and Professional School.

Grades for courses completed at other institutions are not included in computing the GPA.

Limitations on the Use of Transfer, Extension and Certain Other Courses

On-Campus and Distance Education Degree Programs

Some departments may have more restrictive requirements for transfer work. If otherwise acceptable, certain courses may be used toward meeting credit-hour requirements for the master's degree under the following limitations.

- Any combination of 684, 685, or 690 may not exceed 25 percent of the total credit hour requirement shown on the individual degree plan:
