

INDUSTRIAL/ ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY - CERTIFICATE

This certificate is completed by students pursuing a Master of Science in Psychological Sciences with a concentration in Industrial/Organizational Psychology.

Industrial/Organizational (I/O) psychology is the scientific study of human behavior at work and the application of that science to workplace issues facing individuals, teams, and organizations. The Master of Science in Psychological Sciences with a concentration in Industrial/Organizational Psychology, and associated certificate, prepares students for employment in consulting, private practice, government, and corporations. The program emphasizes the application of psychological principles to human resource decisions and organizational behavior challenges. Students will benefit from training by faculty who are nationally recognized leaders in the field.

Program Requirements

Code	Title	Semester Credit Hours
PBSI 652	Statistics and Research Methods in Industrial/Organizational Psychology I	3
PBSI 653	Statistics and Research Methods in Industrial/Organizational Psychology II	3
Select two of the following:		6
PBSI 654	Psychometrics and Survey Design in Industrial/Organizational Psychology
PBSI 656	Advanced Selection
PBSI 657	Training and Performance Management
PBSI 658	Work Attitudes and Motivation
PBSI 659	Groups, Teams and Leadership
Total Semester Credit Hours		12