INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS - CERTIFICATE

The increasing globalization of the contemporary business environment finds companies under pressure to change and adapt to new technologies and markets. Companies need business students that are sensitive to diverse cultures and understand global developments and ethics.

The Graduate Certificate in International Business provides you with the knowledge base and international exposure needed to meet the global business challenges faced by organizations today.

The certificate requires students spend time abroad, as outlined in the program requirements. Course work is completed abroad and in College Station. For more information and to coordinate content of and participation in the certificate program, graduate business students should contact their MS or MBA program advisor.
