

INTERNATIONAL TAX LAW AND POLICY – CERTIFICATE

The certificate in International Tax Law and Policy is designed for international tax professionals (including accountants, economists, and financial leaders) to deliver specialized legal training for an in-depth understanding of the international tax risk management field's changing complex legal aspects.

This graduate-level certificate in International Tax Law and Policy will prepare new and experienced international tax professionals to effectively address complex legal and policy challenges with respect to global tax risk. Specifically, participants will be exposed to (i) important U.S. and international laws, regulations and policies in the international tax risk management field, and (ii) advances in theory and practice, as well as applications of law, regulation and policies through case studies through a module-based structure.

Individuals who complete the program will be able to synthesize scenarios, practice, and legal regulation in the international tax risk management field, providing analysis or judgments for consideration to organizational leadership with a nuanced perspective.

The certificate in International Tax Law and Policy provides an industry-responsive curriculum with a focus on the legal aspects of global tax risk as it applies to policies, business, and economic factors. Courses are offered by asynchronous distance learning to provide a flexible schedule for working professionals. Interactive coursework includes case study assignments and regular interaction with classmates through Zoom meetings, videos, audio casts, chat rooms, discussion boards, and group breakout sessions.

This program is approved for delivery via asynchronous distance education technology.
