Department of Educational Psychology

The Department of Educational Psychology offers a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree in Education with teacher certification concentrations in Bilingual Education or Special Education. The department also offers a BS in University Studies with a non-certification concentration in Child Professional Services. The department’s minor in Creative Studies focuses on developing and growing one’s creative thinking ability for personal and professional situations.

Requirements for Admission to Professional Phase

The undergraduate curricula in the Department of Educational Psychology are composed of two phases: the pre-professional phase and the professional phase. Upon acceptance into the department, all students enter the pre-professional phase. The pre-professional phase consists of University Core Curriculum requirements and introductory courses to the major field of study. After successful completion of these requirements, students are eligible to apply for admission into the professional phase. Cohorts in bilingual and special education are limited in number and students are admitted on a competitive basis; meeting the minimum program prerequisites does not guarantee admission to the professional phase. The professional phase consists of advanced work in the major field of study and professional development courses with field-based experiences.
