

CAMPUS LIFE

The Corps Experience

<http://corps.tamu.edu>

The Corps of Cadets is the largest and most visible student organization at Texas A&M. Known as the Keepers of the Spirit and the Guardians of Tradition, many of Texas A&M's most cherished traditions grew out of the Corps, including Midnight Yell Practice, Aggie Muster and Silver Taps. Currently, over 2,300 young men and women are Corps members.

Most cadet graduates pursue a career in the public and private sector; however, the Corps of Cadets consistently commissions more officers than any institution other than the service academies.

Academic excellence is the top priority of the Corps of Cadets offering scholastic advising and cadet-led support programs as well as access to state-of-the-art academic facilities.

Cadets who pursue non-military careers continue to hone their leadership skills through a rigorous progression of academic leadership courses, applied leadership experiences within the Corps and broader Texas A&M community, and personal development of an Individual Leadership Development Plan. Additional emphasis is given to the development of career readiness competencies of critical thinking, teamwork, professionalism, oral/written communication, career management, digital technology, leadership, and global/intercultural fluency.

The Corps of Cadets offers cadet organizations (The Fightin' Texas Aggie Band, a precision military band; the Ross Volunteers, the official honor guard for the governor of the state of Texas; the Fish Drill Team, a precision drill unit; and Parsons Mounted Cavalry, the only mounted ROTC unit in the United States), ROTC special units (Army's Ranger Challenge Team and Rudder's Rangers, Navy SEAL Platoon, Marine Recon Platoon and the Air Force's Arnold Air Society) and advanced course ROTC contracts.

Department of Multicultural Services

<http://dms.tamu.edu>

The Department of Multicultural Services fosters meaningful student connections to campus through active, intentional, and ongoing engagement programming. The department has a mission to provide multiple developmental experiences to cultivate transition through meaningful social engagement, foster a culture where students can thrive, and develop students' capacities to work productively and collaboratively with others in preparation for an increasingly complex world. DMS connects students to and engages students while on campus with the intent to enhance their overall educational experience.

Located in the Memorial Student Center (MSC), DMS helps meet student connection, transition, collaborative teamwork, and career preparedness needs which all work together to aid in student retention, persistence, graduation, and successful transition into their professional roles. The department maintains a welcoming and engaging environment for all students.

Fraternity and Sorority Life (FSL)

- Housed in the Department of Student Activities, Fraternity and Sorority Life's mission is to provide diverse educational and developmental services that foster an inclusive learning community. We aim to enhance the collegiate experience by supporting opportunities for leadership, academic integration, civic engagement and the creation of fraternal bonds. Our office serves as a liaison between the collegiate chapters, parents, alumni, inter/national organizations, and Texas A&M University. We provide organizational guidance, educational programs, and resources while challenging members to live their fraternal values.
- Fraternities and sororities are a fundamental part of Texas A&M University. We are home to 55+ internationally affiliated or local Greek-letter organizations governed by one of four councils: Collegiate Panhellenic Council (CPC), the Interfraternity Council (IFC), the Multicultural Greek Council (MGC), and the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC). Our fraternities and sororities collectively constitute the largest membership-based and multi-faceted community on campus.
- Representing 11 percent of the undergraduate student population, fraternity and sorority members are committed to their academics, developing and strengthening their leadership skills, volunteering time in the community and continually forming a campus and cultural support network for current and incoming Aggies.

Intercollegiate Athletics

www.12thman.com (<http://www.12thman.com/>)

- Texas A&M is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the prestigious Southeastern Conference (SEC), which also includes the University of Alabama, University of Arkansas, Auburn University, University of Florida, University of Georgia, University of Kentucky, Louisiana State University, University of Mississippi, Mississippi State University, University of Missouri, University of South Carolina, University of Tennessee and Vanderbilt University.
- Texas A&M sponsors 20 intercollegiate athletics teams. The nine men's programs are football, basketball, baseball, golf, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, cross country, swimming and diving, and tennis. The 11 women's programs are basketball, cross country, golf, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, volleyball, soccer, and equestrian.
- Texas A&M has won 19 national championships in eight varsity sports, including football, women's basketball, softball, men's indoor track and field, men's outdoor track and field, women's outdoor track and field, men's golf, and equestrian. The Aggies have amassed 25 Southeastern Conference Championships since joining the league in the 2012-13 academic year, and boast some of the most decorated programs across all of intercollegiate athletics.
- Aggie athletes have earned more than 900 All-American selections and hundreds have gone on to successful careers in their respective sports. In addition, Texas A&M has produced a number of Olympic athletes, including a record number of 26 Aggies who competed in the 2020 Summer Olympic Games.
- MISSION: To create opportunities through championship athletics.
- VISION: The HOME OF THE 12TH MAN is the pinnacle in opportunities realized through sport: championships won, diplomas earned, leaders equipped and launched to impact the world.

- CORE VALUES: Respect, Excellence, Leadership, Loyalty, Integrity, Selfless Service

MSC Programs

<http://mscprograms.tamu.edu>

- MSC Programs engages students in campus programs and service opportunities that prepare them to be global leaders. To this end, we provide academic, entertainment, arts, political, and cultural awareness programs that enrich the Aggie experience. Our programming and service opportunities provide next-level professional, personal, and practical engagement that supports experiential learning and skill development in the areas of budgeting, communication, fund development, team development, program planning and logistics, meeting facilitation, public speaking, and technical skills such as running sound for a concert or installing an art exhibit.
- Our programs represent a wide variety of interests including student-curated art exhibitions in the MSC Reynolds Gallery, weekly concerts, service events, free film screenings, and the hosting of world-renowned speakers to discuss current events, national affairs, and other relevant topics of today. MSC Signature Events include the annual Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast, MSC Open House, MSC Student Conference On National Affairs, MSC Student Conference On Latinx Affairs, MSC Spencer Leadership Conference, MSC Wiley Lecture Series, and Kyle Field Day, among others.
- The MSC Box Office, located in Rudder Tower, also offers ticketing services for student organizations, campus, and community events and programs.

Music Activities (MUSA)

<http://musa.tamu.edu> (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>)

Band Opportunities

- Fightin' Texas Aggie Band – The Fightin' Texas Aggie Band is nationally known for its precision military marching formations on the football gridiron and is the largest military marching band in the nation. This Corps of Cadets unit is the official marching band of Texas A&M University. Corps of Cadets membership is required as well as an audition with the directors. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.
- University Concert Bands – Wind Symphony, Symphonic Winds, Symphonic Band, and Concert Band. These ensembles consist of outstanding wind and percussion players from all areas of the Texas A&M campus. Literature performed by the bands is chosen from the best of traditional and contemporary band works. The bands perform at least two concerts per semester and occasionally participate in off-campus concerts and tours. Students from all majors are welcome in the band, and Corps of Cadets membership is not required. An audition is required to participate in the bands. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.
- University Jazz Ensembles – These two groups utilize standard 17-piece, large jazz ensemble instrumentation for 13 winds and 4 rhythm section instruments. The bands perform select literature from the best traditional and contemporary big band jazz repertoire. The ensembles perform at least two concerts each semester, including campus and community performances. An audition is required to participate in the jazz ensembles. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.

- Hullabaloo Band – The Hullabaloo Band is housed in the Athletic Department and is a sponsored student organization, consisting of 100 student musicians that support Texas A&M Volleyball, and Men's and Women's Basketball. The band regularly travels to tournaments with the teams during postseason play. An audition is required to participate in the Hullabaloo Band. Please refer to our website (http://www.12thman.com/sports/2015/3/23/GEN_20140101165.aspx) for more information.

Choral Opportunities

- Singing Cadets – Membership in the Corps of Cadets is NOT required. The purpose of the Singing Cadets is to enhance the public relations of Texas A&M University through musical presentations as deemed appropriate by the Director and to develop disciplined leaders of character as defined by the Singing Cadet Handbook. The four pillars of the Singing Cadets are Purpose, Unity, Spirit, and Honor. Together, these four pillars have formed the solid foundation that has inspired and enabled our organization to succeed in carrying out its purpose for over a century. An audition is required to participate in the Singing Cadets. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.
- Century Singers – The Century Singers is a recognized student organization and close-knit family that connects through a shared passion for music. Members also have the opportunity to participate in events throughout the year including overnight retreats and activities such as ice-skating, movie nights, and group dinners. Involvement in both social gathering and formal rehearsals brings members together as Aggies, musicians, and friends. This creates a truly unique and rewarding experience that will be remembered for a lifetime. An audition is required to participate in the Century Singers. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.
- Women's Chorus – The Texas A&M Women's Chorus is a recognized student organization that strives to promote excellence in the fine arts and to encourage cultural expansion at Texas A&M. They also aim to provide entertainment for the campus community, and to enhance the perception of the ensemble at all levels. The choir travels throughout Texas, beyond our state borders, and internationally, and performs a varied repertoire of sacred and secular classical selections. An audition is required to participate in the Women's Chorus. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.

Orchestral Opportunities

- University Orchestras – The orchestra program at Texas A&M consists of two orchestras; the Chamber Orchestra and the Philharmonic Orchestra. Both of these groups are comprised of students from all majors at the university. Both orchestras provide students with outstanding musical experiences while allowing time for academics and other interests. Students in the orchestras perform the best of both string and symphony orchestra literature at a high level of artistic achievement in a focused and supportive environment. An audition is required to participate in the orchestras. Please refer to our website (<http://musa.tamu.edu/>) for more information.

Recreational Sports

<http://recsports.tamu.edu>

- All currently enrolled Texas A&M students (with some exceptions) are automatically Rec members. All you need is your student ID to utilize the Student Recreation Center, Polo Road Rec Center, Southside Rec Center, Penberthy Rec Sports Complex, and other Rec Sports facilities. Guest passes for visitors are available for purchase. Persons with disabilities are invited to contact Member Services to inquire about accommodations. We encourage individuals to download the Rec Sports app from the Apple App Store and Google Play.

- The Student Recreation Center is Texas A&M Rec Sports' flagship facility. With more than 500,000 square feet of recreation space, the facility offers a variety of areas including an extensive strength and conditioning room, indoor walking/jogging track, handball/racquetball courts, and indoor courts for soccer, basketball, volleyball, and badminton. It also offers an indoor rock climbing facility, bouldering wall, outdoor basketball and sand volleyball courts, dance/activity rooms, free day-use lockers, locker rooms, and a world-class natatorium featuring a dive pool, lap pool, instructional pool, and the Cain outdoor pool. Facilities may be used on a drop-in basis except when reserved for classes or university functions.
- The Southside Rec Center, located on Bizzell Street adjacent to the Texas A&M Golf Club and across from the Southside Residence Halls, is approximately 60,000 square feet of indoor recreational space with an additional 15,000 square feet of outdoor space. It features strength and conditioning areas, fitness room, multi-purpose courts, a bouldering wall, outdoor sand volleyball courts, a large outdoor turf area, free day-use lockers, and locker rooms.
- The Polo Road Rec Center, located on Polo Road near University Drive, is approximately 28,000 square feet with a large strength and conditioning space that includes an indoor turf area, a multipurpose room for group fitness classes, free day-use lockers, and locker rooms.
- The Penberthy Rec Sports Complex, located on both sides of George Bush Drive, features artificial turf playing fields, natural grass fields, softball fields, a covered pavilion, and equipment checkout.
- Rec Sports also offers aquatics classes, group exercise and specialty classes, boot camps, personal and small group training, intramural sports, sport clubs, and outdoor adventures.

Speech and Debate Team

<http://speech.tamu.edu>

- Compete at national level while impacting the community and the world at a grassroots level.
- Compete in debate, public address events, individual limited preparation events and oral interpretation events.
- Student-run, student-funded and student-oriented organization.

Student Activities

<http://studentactivities.tamu.edu>

- The Department of Student Activities fosters and supports leadership, learning, and involvement opportunities that enhance the growth and development of students and recognized student organizations. At Texas A&M, we care about helping Aggies develop in ways, both in and out of the classroom, that will prepare them for life beyond Aggieland. To do so, Student Activities offers opportunities to lead, serve, participate in campus traditions, represent student voice, and make an impact at Texas A&M. The perks of getting involved on campus range from reaching your leadership potential, to networking with administrators and potential employers, to forming lasting friendships.

- The Department of Student Activities houses key involvement opportunities, including 1300+ recognized student organizations, as well as 55+ fraternity and sorority chapters that can be found through Fraternity and Sorority Life (<https://studentactivities.tamu.edu/fsl/>). The Student Government Association (<https://sga.tamu.edu/>) and the Texas A&M Class Councils (<https://classcouncils.tamu.edu/>) offer opportunities for those who are passionate about representing the student voice and hosting Texas A&M traditions.
- At Texas A&M, Aggies are held to a high standard of leadership and selfless service. To help reach your leadership potential, visit our Student Organization Leadership and Development team - providing valuable services to recognized student organizations and housing several service-based organizations such as The Big Event (<https://bigevent.tamu.edu/>) and the 12th Can Food Pantry (<https://12thcan.tamu.edu/>) - or consider getting involved in an Extended Orientation (<https://studentactivities.tamu.edu/eo/>) program to help welcome new students to Aggieland.

Student Government Association (SGA)

<http://sga.tamu.edu>

- SGA is comprised of the executive, legislative, and judicial branches. Members of these branches include the Texas A&M Student Body President and Student Senators who work to advocate for student needs and help better the Texas A&M campus.
- SGA has four commissions – development, election, diversity, and legislative relations. Each of these serve to carry out the goals of the Student Body President from fundraising money for all of SGA to advocating for students at the state level.
- Finally, SGA houses 13 programming committees including The 12th Can Food Pantry, The Big Event, Traditions Council, Aggie Muster, and more. These committees strive to enhance the student body through their leadership, programming, conferences, and traditions and they directly have an impact on the student body and community.

<http://sapar.tamu.edu/> (<https://sapar.tamu.edu/>)

- Student Affairs Planning, Assessment & Research provides leadership in assessment and planning to the Division of Student Affairs and to student organizations, maximizing program effectiveness, emphasizing student learning and contributing to the knowledge of the student experience at Texas A&M.

Student Life - Student Media

<http://studentlife.tamu.edu/studentmedia>

- Student Media produces national, award-winning publications; The Battalion newspaper, the Aggieland yearbook and the Maroon Life magazine. All three are written, edited and produced by students and offer excellent opportunities to gain valuable experience for journalistic and related careers.
- The Battalion, Texas A&M's student newspaper since 1893, is typically printed weekly on Thursdays during the fall and spring and every other week during the summer sessions. Around finals and holidays, the delivery days may be changed. It is distributed to students, faculty and staff on campus and at many apartments and other high traffic areas in College Station. The Battalion also is available online and on mobile devices at thebatt.com.
- The Aggieland, which dates back to 1895, is distributed in the fall but is a year-round project documenting school activities. It is one of the nation's largest college yearbooks.
- Maroon Life is published five times during the school year with New Students' Guide to Aggieland (distributed at New Student Conferences), Fall Sports Preview, Best of Aggieland (winter distribution), Spring Sports Preview and Housing Guide (Family Weekend) editions.

University Art Galleries

<http://uart.tamu.edu>

The Texas A&M University Art Galleries (UART) department actively engages students, faculty, staff, and the surrounding community by offering thoughtful visual arts experiences that inspire dialogue, creativity, and collaboration. Through exhibitions, educational initiatives, and outreach programs, UART serves as a bridge between the university and the broader region, inspiring an appreciation for the arts. As dedicated stewards of the collections, UART promotes arts advocacy and cultivates an inclusive cultural environment that enriches learning, strengthens community connections, and supports Texas A&M University's educational mission.

Officing in the Memorial Student Center, UART organizes art exhibitions for the Forsyth and Stark galleries; advises on the selection, display and management of visual art objects on campus; collaborates with other university art collections; and provides guidance and support to university's relevant endeavors. To promote an appreciation for public art, the department oversees the preservation and maintenance of the university's outdoor sculpture collection.

University Center and Special Events (UCEN)

<http://ucenter.tamu.edu>

- University Center and Special Events (UCEN) is a highly skilled team of professionals committed to creating extraordinary guest experiences. We provide exceptional event management and technical support in state-of-the-art facilities that are well maintained, safe and clean. Through our facilities and services, we enhance the educational, business, social and cultural experiences of students, faculty, staff and visitors of Texas A&M University.
- Event Services – located on the second floor of Rudder Tower, the Event Services team assists in the booking, coordination, setup and staffing of meetings and events held in the Memorial Student Center (MSC), J. Earl Rudder Tower, John J. Koldus Building, All Faiths Chapel, and the surrounding outside event spaces including Aggie Park.
- Rudder Theatre Complex – our Rudder Theatre Complex team assists with the booking of space in Rudder Auditorium, Rudder Theatre, Rudder Forum, and the Exhibit Hall. Additionally, our team provides AV technical support, event setup, equipment rental, and event consultation for events held outside of UCEN facilities.
- Aggie Park - located just east of Kyle Field, is the premiere green space on campus with over 20 acres of outdoor areas for study, relaxation, tailgating, entertainment and recreation for students, staff, faculty, and visitors. To host events in Aggie Park, visit our team in Rudder Tower 103, email us at aggiemark@tamu.edu, or call 979.862-PLAY(7529).

The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs (OVPSA) serves and supports 13 different departments within the Division of Student Affairs that are critically engaged in all aspects of students' lives and the delivery of key services and support. In alignment with the mission, values, and policies of Texas A&M University, the OVPSA promotes collaboration and coordinating efforts that affect the entire division, such as strategic planning, budgeting, staff and community development, research, assessment, fundraising, public relations, and technology.

Furthermore, the OVPSA supports the division's community of talented and dedicated professionals who provide exceptional programs, services, and facilities that create a supportive campus environment where students feel a sense of community and have the opportunity to develop as leaders. The OVPSA works to ensure that the division and its staff maintain a student-centered approach to engagement, learning, leadership development, and well-being, in order to instill a commitment to critical thinking, lifelong learning, and the Aggie Core Values amongst our 79,000+ students.
