

SPANISH - MINOR

The Spanish minor allows students with other majors to work on their linguistic skills while they gain Hispanic cultural competency. A great way to complement coursework in many other majors, including those in science, health, and business, this minor focuses on language-based coursework that will serve as an asset upon entering the job market after graduation. The minor requires 18 hours of course work beyond 100-level Spanish courses including Spanish 201; 202 or 203. The remaining 12 hours may be selected from the many 300- and 400-level courses offered every semester. Of the total required hours, at least 9 must be taken in residence at Texas A&M.
